NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS AND EXCHANGED BULLETINS

Sorry about the delay in this issue the other hand of gripper finger on the press broke as I tried to run some covers for the 1860 census. So this time I ordered two extra ones, just in case.

There will be no 1860 Wasco County Census covers for awhile, until I can get caught up on all the backlog of printing I have.

This is the last bulletin of our third year, hope you enjoyed the material we were able to bring to you.

We are completely out of Volume I Issue I, we don't intend to reprint. As getting a new bulletin ready each quarter is all we can handle. All issues of the bulletin is in the Oregon State Library in Salem Oregon and xerox copies can be obtained from there.
The Act for the Admission of Oregon into the Union.

Whereas the people of Oregon have formed, petitioned, and adopted a constitution of State government, which is republican in form and in conformity with the Constitution of the United States, and have applied for admission into the Union on an equal footing with the other States; therefore—

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That Oregon be, and she hereby, received into the Union on an equal footing with the other States in all respects whatever with the following boundaries: In order that the boundaries of the State may be known and established, it is hereby ordered and declared that the State of Oregon shall be bounded as follows: to wit, Beginning one marine league at sea due north from the point where the forty-second parallel within the jurisdiction of the United States, to a point due west and opposite the middle of the north ship Channel of the Columbia river, hence easterly, to and up the middle channel of said river and, where it is divided by islands, up the middle of the western channel thereof, to a point near the mouth being on the forty eighth parallel of north latitude across said river; hence easterly on said parallel, to the middle of the main channel of the Columbia or Snake river; hence up the middle of the main channel of said river, to the mouth of the Columbia river; hence due south, to the parallel of latitude forty two degrees north;

hence west along said parallel, to the place of beginning, including jurisdiction in civil and criminal cases upon the Columbia river; and Snake river, concurrently with States and Territories of which these rivers form a boundary in common with this State,
Section 2. And be it further enacted, That the said State of Oregon shall have concurrent jurisdiction on the Columbia and all other rivers and waters bordering on the said State of Oregon as far as the same shall form a common boundary to said other State and the State, or States, now or hereafter to be formed or bounded by the same; and said rivers and all the navigable waters of said State, shall be common highways and forever free, as well as to the inhabitants of said State as to all other citizens of the United States, without any tax, duty, impost or toll thereof.

WHEN DOUGLAS COUNTY WAS UMPUQUA COUNTY

From the W. P. A. records in the State Archives. Material was gathered by L. M. Lowell of Roseburg.

Over sixty years ago Umpqua county ruled southern Oregon. It had an area of of 4950 square miles, which is almost exactly the size of the state of Connecticut.

Historic old Canyonville, at the base of the Umpqua Cayon, 27 miles distant from Roseburg, had at that time a population of nearly 150. It had a public school as well as a private one. An Oddfellows lodge and one of the Good Templara.
Mining had given way largely to other industries such as sawmilling. J. Thorne operated a sash and door factory. John Catching, Levens & Beverly, Marks, Sidemam & company, and J. J. Packard operated sawmills. The other business firms in Canyonville in 1873 were Belman & Leuher, who had a boots and shoes, George W.
Colvig, who ran a drug store, D. E. Parsley, furniture dealer, J. Houser, Gunsmith, E. E. Woods Harness maker, Miss Laura Dyer, millinery, D. A. Levens and Marks, Sideman and Company, general merchandise, John Caldwell, Hotelkeeper, A. Blackwood, John Green and L. Sturger, who had "wet goods emporiums."

Sixtytwo years ago a postoffice had been established at Elkton, but there was no stores or other building there.

Camas Valley also had a postoffice and one store, which was owned by John Applegate. Winchester also had one store, owned by Mr. French. Grave Creek had postoffice and a hotel, run by G. Harkness, the hotel being run for the accommodation of the stage passengers. There was also a postoffice at Kelloggs, 28 miles northwest of Roseburg, but there were no stores. Lookingglass had a postoffice, but no stores. Leesburg had no postoffice, but James Thompson ran a store there.

At Drain at the mouth of Pass Creek, J. W. Krewson ran a general merchandise store, and the railroad company had just erected a warehouse and section house. A road from Drain to Scottsburg was opened that year. Scottsburg was at the head of of navigation on the Umpqua river. Twenty years before it had been the metropolis of southern Oregon, but in 1873 there were only a few stores there, the town never having been rebuilt since it was mostly washed away in the high water of 1861-62. C. Hedden ran a blacksmith shop and P. P. Palmer a livery stable. Haynes and Cours conducted a tannery. E. H. Burchard and G. C. Hinadale had stores. J. J. Lyons ran the hotel, Jim McGhay was the butcher, Peter Nelson ran a saloon.

Gardiner, later known as "Spotless-town" had in 1873 a population of about 100. It also had a school, a Masonic lodge, a tannery and a sawmill. A. M. Simpson & Co. had a store there. John F. Clark ran the hotel and E. Breen, A. Layton and L. A. Wright ran saloons, J. B. Leeds was a commission merchant, and M. M. Melvin was a revenue inspector.

Galesville had several business establishments, including a blacksmith shop ran by Henry Christian, a hotel by C. Sutton, a gun store by George Hedlind and four general merchandise stores owned by Adam Gilbert, H. Robins, H. Simpson, D. A. Lewins.

At Myrtle Creek over sixty years ago there were two sawmills and a flour mill. D. W. Savage owned one of the sawmills and Silas Connor the other. The flour mill was operated by J. Powell, who also ran the hotel. Frank Slocums and Francis Webber ran saloons. The three stores were owned by Syrot and Selig, Rosenstien and Zelinsky and Henry Webber.

Sixteen miles southwest of Roseburg a store and postoffice had been established at Ten Mile and several other business establishments were being operated. R. N. Gurney and J. M. Weekley each operated a sawmill. John C. Hermer, J. H. Irving and W. R. Williamson ran blacksmith shops and William Day and L. M. Lee had stores.

Much has been said about the Academy at Wilbur, but very little about the business life there. J. T. Moulder had a store, John Kyvendall was a carpenter and cabinet-maker. F. R. V. Hill ran a hotel and William Royal attended the medical needs of the community.
